EXT. BANK - DAY

RAJESH (25) exits from the BANK by opening one of the glass doors labelled "BANK," while the other door's label concludes with "O." He stroll along the glass wall, which mirrors the stony walkway and the buildings on the other side. The sun shines through the gaps between the skyscrapers.

He slings his backpack over one shoulder and takes a key chain from his jacket to toy with.

Two guys on the other side of the road are staring at him and exchanging glances. One was sitting on a bike while the other was standing next to him.

Rajesh walks over to a bike parked on the side of the road in the parking lot and inserts the key into the socket.

He receives a phone call as he attempts to ascend the bike. He takes the phone from the pocket, only to find it's from

RINA.

RAJESH

Yah... yah... got 3. Will be there in 15 min.

The thugs approach Rajesh on the bike. They were in helmets. Thug 2, sitting at the rear, quickly snatches the bag from Rajesh and the bike rides away. Rajesh's phone drops off his hand. He stumbles and picks up the phone. He gives the thugs vanishing in the distance a calm look.

RINA

(VO)

Hello... Hello!

RAJESH

Ri, I will call you later.

Rajesh hangs up the phone and puts it in his pocket. He puts on the helmet that hangs from the bike's mirror, then slides in the driving glasses. He then turns the key and shifts the gears.

VROOM! VROOM! VROOM! The bike jump starts with a thick cloud of smoke.

EXT. STREETS OF CITY - DAY

They race through the lean streets and narrow gaps in the traffic. A girl standing on the sidewalk stares at them. Her skirt flutters as the thugs' bike passes. She holds it. Rajesh's bike zooms by. She grips her skirt tightly and scans the road for any incoming motorcycles.

At a distance, at the crossroads, the traffic signal turns from green to yellow. Thug 1 pulls the clutch, shifts gears, and accelerates. Before the signal turns red, they pass past the crossroads.

IN THE MIRROR OF THUG'S BIKE

Rajesh's bike halts at the signal. A car stops next to him. Vehicles pass through the cross-road from other roads. Thugs return the stare as they continue on their way.

EXT. STREETS OF CITY - DAY CONTINUOUS

Thugs slow down at the corner of a side street between the high-rise buildings. Rajesh appears at the other end of the street just as the thug 2 is ready to get down.

Thug 2 sits back and clutches the bag tightly. The bike rushes past the side street. Rajesh drives through the inclined (rising) side street and takes a sharp turn..

EXT. PARK ENTRANCE - DAY

Thugs' bike comes to a screeching halt near the park's entrance on the stony floor. Thug 1 leaps over the park's turnstile gate, while Thug 2 tosses the bag to him before leaping over the barrier, and they both flee away.

Rajesh pulls up alongside the thugs' motorcycle and sprints through the spinning barrier. He removes his helmet and scans the pathways on both sides for the thugs, running into one of them.

EXT. PARK - DAY

Tired thugs come to a halt at an abandoned fountain. They put their helmets on the stony fountain wall. They begin looking through the bag. Rajesh reaches out there. Thug 1 takes a knife from his pocket and stomps forward, while Thug 2 clutches the sack tightly.

Rajesh throws the helmet at Thug 1. The knife slips from the hand. Rajesh smacks the thug as he stares at the flying knife. He fell to the ground. Thug 2 leaves the bag and rushes to Rajesh and holds him from behind.

Thug 1 begins pounding. Rajesh manages to escape a few punches, but he is bruised by others. Rajesh punches Thug 2 with his elbow to get released. Then he smashed a few punches with his fist and leg at them.

While the thugs were in serious pain, he grew exhausted as well. He staggers over to the fountain and sits on the granite wall, peering at the thugs slumped on a nearby bench.
